Daily prep targets

Day	Par	How to make it
Monday	1,250 g	1× Standard + half Standard
Tuesday	1,000 g	1× Standard
Wednesday	1,000 g	1× Standard
Thursday	1,000 g	1× Standard
Friday	1,350 g	1× Big-day (1.5 L)
Saturday	2,800 g	1× Weekend (2 L) + 1× Standard
Sunday	2,200 g	1× Weekend + half Standard

Rules for the kitchen

- Prep to the par. Don't make 'a bit extra' — the par already includes 10% safety.
- End-of-shift left-in-tub target: under 200 g. If you're binning more than 300 g three days in a row, drop tomorrow's par 100 g and message Chloe.
- Don't carry yesterday's batch into today — make fresh each morning. Emulsion breaks risk and quality goes off after 18 hours.
- Top up mid-service if covers look unusually heavy. Never start the day with extra "just in case".

Tarte Burleigh — Miso Hollandaise Recipes

Three scaled versions of the same base recipe. Pick by what the par card says — never make more than the day calls for. Portion = 70 g per benny.

Method (same for all batch sizes): Clarify the ghee. Whisk yolks with vinegar + water over a bain-marie until thick ribbons. Stream warm ghee in slowly while whisking, emulsifying. Whisk in miso + sriracha + lemon juice + salt + pepper. Taste; adjust acid / salt. Hold warm (max 60 °C). Use within 4 hours; discard any unused at end of shift.
