

HOW TO USE THIS SHEET. A ✓ means the dish contains that allergen based on its current recorded recipe. A blank means none recorded — it is not a guarantee of 'free from'. Allergens are rolled up automatically from each ingredient through every sub-recipe, but ingredient declarations are not all independently verified yet. Always check the live recipe and speak to the chef on duty before confirming an allergy to a customer. Cross-contact (shared fryers, grills, prep surfaces, flour dust) is NOT captured here — assume risk of traces. A blank row means no allergen in the recipe (e.g. plain bacon, fresh juice). A ? means the cell is under kitchen review — treat the allergen as PRESENT until the label/recipe check confirms otherwise. The 'Other' column lists common non-top-14 intolerances (garlic, onion, chilli/capsicum, pepper, seeds, barley) rolled up from the recorded recipe — same caveats apply.
